

COMPARISON | Voluntary PreK for Students and Families

An Opportunity Agenda for a Better Minnesota

Every family ought to have the opportunity to give their kids the best start. That's why Governor Dayton is calling for $175 million to allow every school district that applied for funding to offer free, voluntary preK to four-year-olds in their communities. This funding would provide preK opportunities to 17,100 Minnesota four-year-olds at more than 260 school districts statewide. In contrast, House Republicans have proposed to eliminate funding that is helping 74 school districts across Minnesota offer voluntary preK to 3,300 four-year-olds.

See how students and school districts across Minnesota would be impacted below.
